A.H.S. Newscast

By Peggy Wooten

Hello there!

Everyone at A. H. S. has settled down to their regular schedule after cramming for exams. With graduation only four months away, the Seniors are anticipating a study-filled but happy semester.

The Junior Class has just received their class rings, and boy, are they proud of them! These Juniors can be justly proud of them not only for their new and beautiful appearance, but the special meaning which they convey.

The Beta Club held a meeting last Friday. Each member received his Beta Club pin. A program was presented by Janice McClenny, Carol Myers and Bobby Barger on the Beta Club emblem and creed.

Seems that the Blue Hornets just walked away with the games with Nelson County, Friday night, with a score of 68-35. High scorers for the evening were Raymond Ferguson with 14 points and Frankie Doss with 22 points.

After the games everyone had a swell time at the dance, which was sponsored by the F. B. L. A. The music for this dance was provided by "The Southerners." They gave an excellent performance.

Members of the Forensic Club are working very hard on the three one-act plays which they will present in February. They are "The Night Scene," "The Wonder Hat," and "The Informer." In "The Informer," Frank Hanenkrat, Joan Weeks, Louise Ranson, Sandy Burkes, David Almond, Sandra O'Brien, Freddie Mitchell and Dickie O'Brien star. In "Night Scene," Buddy Poe, Madelyn Guill, Gene Carson and Bradley Babcock provide the cast. Those starring in "The Wonder Hat" are Bobby Barger, Sam Kerr, Shawn Mabley, Frances Ramsey and John Holland.

Prompters are Doris Clapp, Helen Franklin and Betty Tillery. Lois Ashworth and Mildred Tolley are working with make-up. Peggy Henry is in charge of publicity. The admission for these plays will be 25¢.

Peggy.

GET A BUSY MAN

Plain City, Ohio.- Holly B. Walker is proof of the old saying—if you want something done, get a busy man. Walker, 55, is an assistant cashier of a bank and director of a savings company, vilage clerk, a church treasurer, elder and clerk, chairman of the village's annual flower show, secretary of the board of park trustees and secretary of the village sinking fund trustees. He says he manages to handle it all because he has "a good memory."

A year-end survey indicates that most major industries in the United States would continue operating at or near peak levels through the first half of 1956.

Twenty-two other counties are known to have deposits of manganese, Massie reported.

Sen. Robertson's Resolution Favors Stand By Congress

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.- Senator A. Willis Robertson (D. Va.) said today he would offer in the Senate tomorrow a proposal for Congress and the States to cooperate public schools on either a desegergated or separate-but-equal basis.

The proposal will be in the form of a Joint Resolution which the Senator said was in accord with Section 5 of the Fourteenth Amendment in which the people reserved the right to determine, through their representatives in Congress, how the equal rights provisions of the Amendment should be implemented.

"I believe thoughful citizens throughout the nation are disturbed," Robertson said, "by the current trend of the Federal Government to assume jurisdiction over matters heretofore reserved to the States and by the attitude of the Supreme Court which has, in fact, claimed the right to become an unrestricted policy making body. Those who have been concerned about these trends should welcome a declaration by the Congress indicating it still believes our unique form of Government can best be preserved by maintaining a proper division of powers between the Federal Government and the forty-eight sogereign states."

He said an additional reason for offering his resolution was his belief that "only through such a declaration can members of the negro race get an education on a par with the white race in certain areas of ur nation."

Robertson said: "Education is a subject in which I have been deeply interested and interested since I entered the Virginia State Senate thirty-nine years ago and today I am concerned over the threat to public education in the Southern States created by the recent ruling of the Supreme Court.

"Those who drafted the Federal Constitution in Philadelphia decided to leave to the States, among other things, full control of public education and that action was emphatically supported by ratification of the Tenth Amendment.

"When the Fourteenth Amendment was adopted, for the protection of those who had been slaves, no one in the Congress or in any of the States which ratified the Amendment suggested it was intended to take from the States their control over public education.

"The Amendment specifically said, however, 'the Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation the provisions of this Article,' and it should be noted that the same Congress which proposed this amendment, while acting as a legislative body for the District of Columbia, established a system of segregated public schools in the District..

"Congress still has the right to say, by legislation, how the civil rights provisions of the Fourteenth Amendment shall be enforced. I am proposing that this right be asserted by giving the States the choice of operating either desegregated schools or the separate-but-equal facilities which all previous decisions of the Supreme Court declared were permissible."

Gus Tebell At Lions Club Football Dinner

The big night is coming up for the football warriors of Appomattox High School. Tonight, at 6:45, at the New Elementary School cafeteria, some 36 members of the Blue Hornet football squad of last fall, will be honored guests of the Appomattox Lions Club at the annual football banquet.

Speaker for the evening will be Gus Tebell, director of athletics at the University of Virginia. A veteran of sports circles in the Old Dominion, Mr. Tebell is a former coach in major sports and has headed the athletic department at Virginia for several years. Judge J. W. Flood heads the local committee planning the banquet. Coaches Gordon Bragg and J. L. Bird will also be guests. As a feature of the occasion, the Lions Club, the A. H. S. Athletic Association, and The Times - Virginian football trophies will be presented.

Va. Manganese Mines Set New Record in 1955

Richmond, Va. — More manganese ore was mined in Virginia in 1955 than in any year in State history, charles W. Massie, mining engineer for the Virginia Department of Conservation and Development, has reported to Raymond Y. Long, Department Director.

Asks Inclusion McLean House

Once agasin, the Lynchburg Chamber of Commerce has come to the aid of historical Appomattox. Lawrence McWane, secretary of the Hill City C. of C. has gone to bat to seek the inclusion of a picture of the McLean House in any future issue of "Virginia Historyland in Color," a publication of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce.

McWane has written to those responsible for the publication declaring that they have a fine product, but adding, "Don't you think the McLean House at Appomattox should be included in our history? After all, Gen. Robert E. Lee and Gen. U. S. Grant decided to unite the North and the South on April 9, 1865. Actual it was the beginning of these 'United States' as we know them today."

Over a long period of years, the Lynchburg Chamber of Commerce has shown an active interest in Appomattox and has contributed greatly to the development of the area where Lee and Grant made one nation out of two warring sections.

Pre-measure Of Leaf Acres Is Available

Appomattox County tobacco growers may arrange for official premeasurement of their tobacco acreages in 1956, W. D. Hix, III, Chairman of Appomattox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced this week.

To get the service, which is furnished on a cost basis, your request must be filed with the ASC Office before March 1, 1956,' Mr. Hix said. The rate to be charged for this service in Appomattox County is $5.00 per farm or $2.00 per farm plus $1.00 per acre for each acre or fraction thereof to be premeasured, whichever is larger. The payment must be deposited at the time the application is filed.

This premeasurement is optional and is offered as a service to growers who want official measurements before planting time. The grower who obtains premeasurement service and plants within the premeasured area is assured of not having excess acreage at harvest time.

Agronomists To Speak At Meeting Feb. 17

A special agronomy meeting has been planned for February 17, beginning at 10 A. M., at the court house building in Farmville. The program includes a discussion by H. L. Dunton, Head of the Agronomy Department at VPI, "A Look at Nitron Fertilizer"; A.A.Muka, Virginia Experiment Station, "Controlling Alfalfa Disease"; "The Middleburg Station and Virginia Forest Crop Research Program," by R. E. Blaser, Virginia Experiment Station"; "Twelve Months Feed Program, Mixtures and Management," by R. E. Blaser, "Alfalfa Production," J. F. Shoulders, Extension Agronomist; "Temporary Crops for Pasture and Silage," W. W. Lewis, Extension Agronomist; "Forage Crops for this Area," by H. L. Dunton. This meeting should be of particular importance to those farmers engaged in dairy and livestock production, as the information being given out at the meeting is practically identical to the information being given to groups attending the winter pasture school at Middleburg on the 13th and 14th of this month.

Those interested in attending the Middleburg Conference will find the subject of "Feeding and Caring for Beef Cattle" on the program for the 13th, and Dairy Cattle on the 14th.

MR. CHARLES F. PERROW

Charles Fitzhugh Perrow, 87, died in a Lynchburg hospital Feb. 3, after an illness of two months.

Born June 11, 1868, he was the son of the late Watson and Nancy Ligon Patterson Perrow. He was never married. Mr. Perrow had been a farmer all his life and lived on Route 3, Appomattox.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Inez Wootten, Route 3, Appomattox.

He was a member of Pleasant Grove Baptist Church, Buckingham County, where funeral services were held Sunday at 2 P. M., with burial in the church cemetery. The Rev. Charles R. Addington conducted the services. Active pallbearers were: Frank Gowin, W. W. O'Brien, T. E. Woodson, Abney Seay, Johnnie Bryant, and T. E. Watson.

Abbitt Confident Leaf Cut To Be Restored

As we go to press, a telegram from Mr. Abbitt states that the full Agriculture Committee of the House has approved his bill, and he hopes to get final action by the entire House within two weeks.

Acreage-shy dark-fired tobacco growers got a shot in the arm this week, when Fourth District Representative Watkins M. Abbitt, of Appomattox, began to see daylight in his tireless efforts to prevent another cut of 15 per cent in acreage allotments. The Department of Agriculture had ordered a new 15 per cent in 1956 allotments. Abbitt has been meeting with growers, warehousemen and USDA officials for several weeks in seeking a way to avoid further reduction.

Tuesday aiternoon, the Times-Virginian received a telegram from Congressman Abbitt advising that the Tobacco Subcommittee of the House had approved a bill he introduced to restore the 15 per cent cut in dark-fired and dark air-cured tobacco allotments for 1956. Abbitt said the Department of Agriculture would not oppose the bill. He added that he feit "very confident that the Congress will approve the bill and thus restore the 15 per cent cut imposed by the Department of Agriculture last fall for the 1956 dark-fired and dark air-cured tobaccos." The full Agriculture Committee took up the Abbitt bill yesterday.

Abbitt and the dark-fired growers and warehousemen, claim that there is a good demand for the Type 21 tobacco grown in a section of Virginia of which Appomattox is the center. They contend that unfavorable weather conditions last year cut production, and that as of now, there is a good foreign demand for Type 21 leaf. Their argument that these factors, matched with stocks on hand, do not warrant the USDA proposed cut.

The entire issue is of vital concern to this area. Although the production of dark-fired tobacco has withered on the vine of allotment cuts in recent years, it is still the bread and butter of hundreds of farm families. One cut after another has forced farmers to venture into new sources of income. Some of these have paid off, and some have not. The point remains that the soil in this area can produce a quality product for which there is still a sizeable demand. Abbitt would like to see the dark-fired Type 21 separated in allotment procedures, from Types 22 and 23, grown elsewhere, so that the allotments would more accurately reflect the demand for this particular type.

Miss Woodson Succeeds Miss Cabaniss As Local Public Health Nurse

Dr. H. E. Jenkins, Director of the Appomattox County Health Department, has announced that Miss Christine Woodson has assumed the duties of Appomattox County Public Health Nurse. She succeeds Miss Hilda Cabaniss who resigned as of February 1, after serving as county nurse for six years. Miss Cabaniss resigned due to health, and is a patient in McGuire's Hospital, Richmond. The new nurse, Miss Woodson, is from Lynchburg. She has been serving as county health nurse at Lovingston, Nelson County.

Rapid Progress On Secondary Road Surfacing

New hard surfaced road mileage has failed to keep pace with the demands of increased traffic during the past three years, a report by the State Highway Department showed today.

Despite the completion by the Highway Department of 3,483 miles of new hard surfacing on the secondary system between 1952 and June 30, 1955, the mileage of non-hard-surfaced secondary roads carrying 50 or more vehicles per day increased from 3,943 to 4,094.

The report prepared annually by the Department's Traffic and Planning Division, showed that of a total of 40,638 miles of secondary roads, 16,936 miles were hard-surfaced, 11,454 miles had all-weather surface, 9,008 miles were light-surfaced, 2,413 miles were unsurfaced and 56 miles were in military areas.

Of the total secondary mileage, 9,589 miles carried 25 to 49 vehicles per day and 7,114 carried 50 to 99 vehicles per day. The total mileage of roads used by less than 25 vehicles per day was 11,790.

Generally, the Highway Department's policy calls for the hard-surfacing of roads carrying 50 or more vehicles per day, all-weather surfacing of roads carrying from 10 to 49 vehicles per day and light surfacing of roads traveled by less than 10 vehicles per day.

Pointing out the improvements that have been made on the secondary system within recent years, the report noted that in 1939 there were only 4,536 miles of hard-surfaced roads—slightly more than one-fourth of the 1955 total.
